December 1, 2010

Dear Oklahoma Stakeholder:

The Oklahoma Department of Transportation is now soliciting comments from non-metropolitan area local officials and other interested parties regarding the effectiveness of the consultation methods and processes for transportation planning programs. Every five years, the State solicits comments and proposed changes for a period of not less than 60 calendar days. The revised Public Involvement Methods and Processes for Non-Metropolitan Area Local Officials is available at www.okladot.state.ok.us under Transportation Programs.

Please review the document and email comments to stip@odot.org or in writing to:
