Just around the corner and off the beaten path, you'll find glimpses into an Oklahoma not everyone knows but can appreciate. I encourage you and your family to explore the Sooner state and take in the simple pleasures, all the while creating lasting memories. There are so many places to enjoy.

Take that day trip, plan a weekend getaway or a long vacation and explore the road ahead. Visit a natural wonder like the Black Mesa in our Panhandle, cheer on the new Oklahoma City Thunder NBA team, tour the unique Oklahoma Music Hall of Fame & Museum in Muskogee or attend one of many events planned in the new Bank of Oklahoma Center in Tulsa.

Oklahoma has something for everyone to enjoy. Venturing into the heart of our state will reveal unique treasures, interesting history and welcoming friends. Plan time to truly appreciate what Oklahoma has to offer – it's your turn to explore!

Sincerely,

Brad Henry
